

THE ANIMAL HOUSE RESCUE URGENTLY NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT TO BUILD A NEW SANCTUARY

With the current credit crunch affecting most of us in one way or another, it comes as no surprise that more domestic pets are being abandoned as their owners simply can't afford their upkeep. Thanks to charities such as THE ANIMAL HOUSE RESCUE unwanted, abused and abandoned animals are taken care of until they find a new home.

Animal House Rescue adopts a different philosophy in the way it cares for animals, as owner Linda Reeves explained: "In providing a 'foster home' environment for the animals in our care they are given an opportunity to integrate with other animals and children, making it easier for their eventual transition into a loving family home. To cope with the increased number of stray dogs we are taking in we are planning to build a Sanctuary, to be run on the same home-based principle."

"As the Lottery does not support any animal funding and we receive no Government funding we will be relying heavily on fundraising through street collections and donations from benefactors in order to achieve our goal to build this much needed Sanctuary," she added.

The charity also needs volunteers to help with street collections, veterinary runs with animals (car required) and picking up food from various collection points around Birmingham and Oldbury areas.
